Personal Transition and Social Transformation

by Jason Lydon, Congregational Director

Dear friends and members... Happy fall! Happy harvest! Happy Eid! Happy New Year! Happy Mabon! If there is a holiday in this list that you don't know, take a moment to look it up. The end of September and beginning of October is a deeply holy time in many faith traditions. The Fall Equinox marks a time of great transition. In the Northern Hemisphere our days are continuing to get shorter, the air crisper, and our need to wear layers increases. Each time of transition throughout the year can be thought of as an opportunity to reflect on where we are (individually, communally, globally) and where we are going. I invite you to take some time and make a list of transitions in your own life. Where are you now? Where do you want to be? What does the process look like to get you from one place to another? Please try to remember that the process is as important as the outcome. Be authentic with yourself. Allow yourself time to grow and be transformed.

Change and transformation are very close to us as a congregation right now. We are, very sadly, saying goodbye to JooYoung Choi, the Director of our Justice School. She has been a phenomenal addition to our community and congregational leadership. She built a program from scratch, fostered relationships between young people and across generations, introduced the Community Church to dozens of families, and brought a vital artistic energy into our space. JooYoung will be deeply missed. Even though we will miss JooYoung we must acknowledge the courage she has had to make choices that best support the direction she wants her life to go. JooYoung's art is a deep gift, her work with trans-racial adoptees is essential, her commitment to her health and self-care is admirable, and we can learn from her boundary setting. Too often the Left burns out our strongest organizers, teachers, and activists. If we wish to see a movement succeed we need to make changes in our expectations of each other. More of us need to step-up and support those who are organizing in our communities

Here at the church volunteers need to be more present and available to make the work continue. In order for the Justice School to exist and flourish we need a core-group of parents and others who are willing to prioritize this program. As a congregation we need to nurture and feed this program if we wish for it to survive. We need to challenge ourselves to be more welcoming to families and be ready for the changes in our culture that would require. We grow internally and numerically when we exist outside of our comfort zones. Sunday mornings are a time for growth and development as well as loving community. It is okay and encouraged for us to be pushed beyond our comfort zones at times. Please make space for yourself and for us to grow. Reflect on the Akan people's (Ghana) liberation theological challenge to Descartes', "I think therefore I am", "I AM BECAUSE WE ARE; AND SINCE WE ARE THEREFORE I AM." As we live within and beyond our individual selves we open ourselves to greater potential as a community. Please take time to connect deeply with one another. Bring someone new with you to church. Increase your volunteer time. Come in on a Thursday evening and volunteer for some of the little projects going on. Our community exists because we create it. Please take time to continue creating it.

CCB Board Meeting

The Board of Directors met on September 18, 2008.

Following are highlights of the meeting.

The following board members and guests were present: David Broeg, Kevin Devine, Dick Keshishian, John MacLeod, Nancy Messom, Virginia Pratt, Jason Lydon, Congregational Director.

Congregational Director's Concerns: A tenant committee composed of Betsy Gynn, Virginia Pratt, Jim Casteris and Jason Lydon has been formed to oversee matters relating to Church rentals and other related matters.

The security system has been installed as well as a push pad (code) to enter the CCB building.

The General Assembly of the Unitarian-Universalist Association (UUA) has called upon its president to establish a commission on environmental justice so as to take action to reduce waste pollution, to develop solar power, to encourage recycling, as well as pushing for fair trade and fair wage standards. It was suggested that an event to discuss "energy justice" be held on December 31 (First Night) at CCB.

Financial Concerns: Virginia and John met with representatives from the Arab-American Anti-Discrimination Committee (ADC) and agreed to terms regarding ADC's back rent payments. ADC is still welcome to hold events at the Church.

The line items on the financial reports as of August 31, 2008 were briefly discussed, especially those concerning the charitable funds and investments.

Various Concerns: Ruediger Volk has accepted a teaching position at Roxbury Community College and subsequently resigned from the board.

Joo Young Choi, director of the Justice School, has resigned her position, effective in about two weeks. She has agreed to aid the CCB in finding a replacement. Arlington Street Church will accept the young people who wish to attend classes there. CCB will decide in the next few weeks whether or not to continue the children's program.

A committee for the presentation of the Sacco-Vanzetti Award for Social Justice has been formed consisting of Virginia Pratt, David Broeg and Kevin Devine. If interested in joining, please contact any of the above-mentioned individuals.

Kevin has urged the Church to join in an effort to defeat Question 1 concerning the repeal of the Massachusetts State Income Tax to be placed on the November ballot as a binding referendum.

The next meeting of the board will be on Thursday, October 16, 2008 at 7:15pm, to which CCB members and friends are invited to attend.

All Out for October 11th!!

On October 11, 2002 Congress approved the "Iraq War Resolution" granting the Bush administration authorization to invade Iraq. Six years later, 1 in 3 Iraqis have been killed, wounded, or displaced. Over 4000 U.S. soldiers have been killed with tens of thousands more seriously wounded. How many more billions will be looted from vital social needs such as jobs, education, healthcare, disaster relief or libraries, firehouses, childcare, or Social Security?

Join us to demand:

- Stop the wars and occupations of Iraq and Afghanistan.
- Money for jobs, education, healthcare and housing. Not for war and occupation.
- No sanctions or attack on Iran.
- Stop the racist scapegoating of Arabs and Muslims.
- Stop the assault on human rights and civil liberties.

Video Showing - CUBA: AN AFRICAN ODYSSEY

It was the Cold War's least publicized face, that of Africa, where Soviet designs triggered a power struggle with the United States and European powers over an unstable continent emerging from centuries of colonialism. How Cuba became involved in the complex puzzle of African liberation is the subject of this fascinating French documentary, tracing Cuban efforts from the early days of Che Guevara in the Belgian Congo to the 1990s.

Part I - Thursday, October 23 at 6:30pm

Part II - Thursday, October 30 at 6:30pm

This is a fundraiser for Cuban survivors and reconstruction after the 2008 Hurricanes. Dinner will be provided.

Please keep Jennifer Johnson in your heart, thoughts, and/or prayers as this has been a challenging year for her losing both of her parents. Please also keep Selma Ganz in your heart, thoughts and/or prayers as she makes her choice to transition to California. -- Jason Silence, they say, is the voice of complicity.

 But silence is impossible.
 Silence screams.
 Silence is a message,
 just as doing nothing is an act.
 Let who you are ring out & resonate in every word & every deed.
 Yes, become who you are.
 There's no sidestepping your own being or your own responsibility.
 What you do is who you are.
 You are your own comeuppance.
 You become your own message.
 You are the message.

In the Spirit of Crazy Horse,
 Leonard Peltier
