"Human Rights and Democratic Erosion in El Salvador and the United States"

with Mneesha Gellman

Dr. Gellman will speak about the human rights situation in El Salvador, drawing on her research about democratic erosion, state and non-state violence, and incarceration there. She will also draw comparisons to democratic backsliding and mass imprisonment in the U.S. This talk will identify some of the central issues at play in the turn toward authoritarianism in El Salvador, and the implications for migration and other international relations concerns.

• Dr. Mneesha Gellman is associate professor of political science at Emerson College. She is the author of many books and articles on the politics of violence in Mexico, El Salvador, and the U.S. Dr. Gellman is founder and director of the Emerson Prison Initiative, which brings a Bachelor's degree pathway to incarcerated students in Massachusetts. Dr. Gellman is past President of the Human Rights section of the American Political Science Association. She serves as an expert witness on country conditions in Mexico and El Salvador in asylum proceedings in U.S. immigration courts.

The Community Church of Boston presents:

The 2025 Sacco and Vanzetti Memorial Award to the Survivors of the USS Liberty; and the Sumud Gaza Flotilla

Receiving Award for the Sumud Global Flotilla: Greg J. Stoker

Receiving the Award for the USS Liberty Survivors: Thomas Moulin

The Sacco and Vanzetti Memorial will be awarded to the survivors of Israel's treacherous attack on USS Liberty on June 8, 1967 lasted two hours, killing 34 crew members and wounding 170 others. The survivors are dedicated to making sure this history is never forgotten.

The Global Sumud Flotilla, sometimes referred to as the Global Freedom Flotilla, was an international, civil society-led maritime initiative launched in mid-2025, which attempted to break the Israeli blockade of the Gaza Strip but was thwarted in an intercept by Israeli naval forces.

"Why We Need to Talk About Palestine's History?" with Ilan Pappé

January 4 at 11:00 AM

Israel and the pro-Israeli lobby claim that there is no need for historical contextualization for explaining what happened on October 7, 2023 and thereafter. In this lecture, this point of view will be challenged with an explanation of why such context is crucial for understanding those events and the future.

• Ilan Pappé is a historian, political scientist, and former politician. He is a professor with the College of Social Sciences and International Studies at the University of Exeter in the United Kingdom, director of the university's European Centre for Palestine Studies, and co-director of the Exeter Centre for Ethno-Political Studies. His research and writing have largely focused on the modern Middle East and in particular the history of Israel and Palestine. His most recent book Israel was published earlier this year: Israel On the Brink: Eight Steps for a Better Future. And today his focus is on building the Centre Against Nakba Denial—which he will share more about in our conversation.

In Honor of Martin Luther King: In Concert with "Lawrence 'Larry' Watson"

January 18 at 3:00 PM
No morning program.

Lawrence "Larry" Watson is a musician, educator, and activist. Born in Brooklyn, New York, and raised in the Baptist Church, he has nurtured a spirit for justice and equality his entire life. After graduating from the State University of Oswego and Cornell University, Watson would go on to teach at Harvard University and later Berklee School of Music. As a dedicated educator, Watson taught not just about performance, but about the long histories behind all of the music they would learn, deepening the learning experience for his students. He coined the term "Highly Emotional Music" (HEM) to describe that very phenomenon. In addition to his teaching and writing, he is also an accomplished performer, having sung alongside the greats like Al Green and Smokey Robinson, and has traveled across the globe to perform for many music and justice-oriented people like himself, including President Barack Obama, President Nelson Mandela, and the Honorable Reverend Desmond Tutu. Watson is currently focused on writing his next book, Black Amnesia.

"The Fall of the US Empire & Transformation of American Personal Life" with Dr. Harriet Fraad

The outsourcing of US manufacturing and the mass of family wages forced white women to join their black sisters and work outside of the home as well as in it. Women refused an after work second shift of domestic labor, emotional labor, the labor of connecting men with children, relatives and friends and sexual labor. Marriage is broken. Dating is transformed. US children are failing Outsourcing made America less able to rule the world with its manufacturing primacy. Thus, capitalist greed occasioned the fall of the American Empire and its dominant forms of personal life.

• Dr. Harriet Fraad produces the Podcast, Capitalism Hits Home with the help of Democracy At Work. Her articles, written work and interviews discuss the mutual shaping and transformations of American economic, political and personal life.
